Indeed the air is full of it and the programs which have been prepared for the occasion show an elaborateness perhaps never before equalled. These young people are now about to try their wings, they are nearly ready to go forth from the sheltering care of their native school, some perhaps to higher schools and colleges, others to learn some profession, but wherever they go or whatever they do, their ways will be watched with earnest interest by all those who have had a part in their lives and all good wishes go with them that their different aims may lead them to be good men and women, whatever career may be chosen.
